74. Government Subsidies
Statistics show that the threat of flooding in many coastal areas makes property insurance more costly there. To make insurance more affordable and available to people who own property in these areas, the federal government provides subsidies to help pay the cost of flood insurance. Do you favor or oppose this federal program?

75. Reauthorize NFIP

This year, Congress must decide whether or not to reauthorize the National Flood Insurance Program. The National Flood Insurance Program regularly spends more money in paying flood insurance claims than it collects in insurance premiums. What do you think Congress should do about the National Flood Insurance Program?
