HOW THE POLL WAS CONDUCTED AND THE MARGIN OF ERROR CALCULATED

February 28, 2017

The CBS News Presidential Address to Congress Survey was conducted by YouGov using a sample of 857 U.S. adults who watched President Trump's address on February 28, 2017. Between February 24–28, 2017, YouGov screened a nationally representative sample of 5,638 U.S. adults and survey participants who said they planned to watch the State of the Union were invited to a follow-up survey at the end of President's address. The recontact rate was 44.8%.

The baseline sample was selected from YouGov panel members to be representative of all U.S. adults according to gender, age, race, education, and region (based on the American Community Survey, conducted by the U.S. Bureau of the Census). The responding sample was then weighted based on gender, age, race, education, party id, 2012 and 2016 Presidential vote. The weights range from 0.14 to 6.16, with a mean of 1 and a standard deviation of 0.7.

The margin of error (a 95% confidence interval) for a sample percentage p based upon the entire sample is approximately 2.6%. It is calculated using the formula where CV is the coefficient of variation of the sample weights and n is the sample size used to compute the proportion. This is a measure of sampling error (the average of all estimates obtained using the same sample selection and weighting procedures repeatedly). The sample estimate should differ from its expected value by less than margin of error in 95 percent of all samples. It does not reflect non-sampling errors, including potential selection bias in panel participation or in response to a particular survey.

$$\hat{p} \pm 100 \times \sqrt{\frac{1 + \mathrm{CV}^2}{n}}$$
