Under the proposed Brexit agreement there will be a transition period after Brexit, during which Britain and the EU will negotiate a longer term trade deal. If a long term deal has not been agreed by the end of the transition period there would be a "backstop deal" to avoid a hard border in Northern Ireland. All the UK would remain in a customs union, and Northern Ireland would in addition follow EU single market rules. The "backstop" deal would continue until both the UK and the EU agreed it was no longer needed.

Which of the following best reflects your view?
