In 2005, Palestinian civil society called for boycotts, divestments and sanctions against Israel and companies involved in the violation of Palestinian human rights as a way to peacefully pressure Israel into complying with international law. How reasonable or unreasonable do you think it is to call for boycott, divestment and sanctions until Israel complies with international law and respects Palestinian human rights?

Settlements are communities established by Israel on land occupied in 1967. The United Nations has stated through many resolutions that these settlements are illegal under international law however Israel disputes this. Thinking specifically about Britain's trade and financial relationships with Israeli settlements on occupied Palestinian land, do you think Britain should or should not do each of the following?

Review its trade and financial relationships with these settlements?
