When voting there are other choices, who do you fit in with?

You don't have to vote for one of the "big three" parties. UKIP and The Green Party are two of the alternatives.

The Guardian - 14%

There is no longer the need to vote for the "big three" parties. The Conservatives, Labour and The Liberal Democrats may not answer all of your needs. The Green Party is one of the alternatives. Usually named as a protest vote they are a contender for seats in the upcoming general election in May.
